

Experience the Insurance Advisernet Difference

When it comes to finding an insurance broker do you look for a wide choice of cover, value for money or a broker that really understands your specific needs? Usually finding more than one of these qualities is rare, but Insurance Advisernet is in the unique position of offering you all three.

Insurance Advisernet brokers believe that providing quality advice and good service comes with building strong relationships with people you trust and who understand you and your business.

We are a network of quality independent insurance brokers. As independent brokers our members are free to develop strong personal relationships with their clients built on mutual trust and a sound appreciation of their business.

Being part of a national group means buying power that leverages excellent rates, exclusive insurance products and facilities. We also provide the latest insurance broking IT platform, systems and infrastructure to assist our brokers to provide consistent quality advice and service.

We have a commitment to professional education to ensure our brokers are qualified to provide the very best advice to their clients.

So why not come and experience the Insurance Advisernet experience.

